CAMERON'S GERMAN FOLK DANCERS

112 With F.M.L.

Well, boys, it's a new world.

When A&M goes co-ed, it's merely a stride into normal co-education. Mary Hardin Baylor, Belton, went co-ed for men, the reverse. And old grads, which I am not of either, saw tradition collapse, as it were.

But when Dr. Marguerite J. Fisher, self-designated "liberated woman all her life," traces women's lib in this country at an A&M "Great Issues" convocation, you see a leap toward change.

One report said Dr. Fisher "made men squirm and women delight" while tracing women's lib development.

This whole movement links with another report heard the other day in which it is possible that legislation would include young women in any future draft bill.

Women have been serving in various branches of the services since World War II and before that as military nurses. But now we are talking about drafting them instead of urging voluntary enlistment.

A native Texan, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, was commander of the Women's Army Corps, if memory serves. Later, she was secretary of health, welfare and education in the Eisenhower administration.

What all this suggests is that equal rights of all kinds are established. We're not sure whether this means the "lib" movement, both for women and a corresponding reidentification for men, includes some kind of "license."

It used to be "every man for himself" when things got rough. Since mobility is not only the order, but the near practice of the day, it would have to be "every man or woman for him or herself."

As economic independence grows, it is indeed going to be an accelerated society for the Ol' U. S. A.

This is as it should be, but marriage and family life will likewise join this sociological revolving door, grabbing for some kind of brass ring of stability, which is the least likely element of modern life.

Length of hair among high school and college students really is a moot point now.

All this must occur, since every other element of justice or injustice has been wrung out of us in the past 10 years or so.

People want their institutions to change. Believe me, they are changing.

Your Herald has 13 women working full or parttime of about 20 people directly involved in the writing, production or distribution.

We may be ahead of the "movement". And it is predictable, one day, we'll have a female editor-in-chief. This editor will by that time be going and claiming some equal rights of his own.

YOE HIGH GOES TO AAA STATUS

Yoe High School has been raised from AA to AAA status, according to an announcement this week. Georgetown, also formerly AA, will be also triple A next year.

A high school with enrollment of from 500 to 1150 is considered triple A. The school must retain enrollment for at least two years to attain a new designation.

German Dancers To Perform At Wurstfest

Nearly 200 Cameron area residents and the German Dancers from Cameron are planning to attend the annual "Wurstfest" at New Braunsfels Sunday, October 31.

The dancers will be among groups performing before crowds at the Fest.

Some 85 persons will be traveling to New Braunsfels by chartered bus and others will go in autos.

The dancers will perform at 2 and 6 p.m. in the Wursthalle a building 450 feet by 75 feet wide.

Glaucoma Tests Set At Rockdale

A free glaucoma screening will be held at the Rockdale Elementary School Cafetorium on Sunday afternoon, October 24 from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. in an attempt to track down unknown cases of glaucoma, a blinding eye disease.

The free tests screening program is open to all residents of Rockdale and surrounding areas, thirty-five years of age and over.

It will be sponsored by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Rockdale Lions Club in cooperation with members of the Travis County Medical Society and Bell County Medical Society. The program has been approved by the Milam County Medical Society and local Health Department.

Members of the Lions Club and their wives will serve as volunteers along with local nurses who will assist the doctors.

Cub Scouts To Meet

Cub Scouts, prospective Cub Scouts and their parents are invited to a meeting of Pack 713 Monday, October 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Methodist fellowship Hall. Refreshments will be served.

Weekend Mishaps Damage Vehicles

A rash of highway accidents over the weekend kept Highway Patrolmen Jerry Randall, Mike Giles, and Milton Wright busy, with damage to vehicles but no serious injuries reported.

A total of six accidents was reported between Saturday and Monday, with the first two happening almost at the same time and place.

The first accident occurred at the intersection of Highways 79 and 36 east of Milano at 9:20 a.m. Saturday. A 1964 Thunderbird driven by Elia Garcia Mata of Houston skidded on rain-slick pavement through the intersection hitting a 1969 Chevrolet pickup driven by Louis G. Smith of San Antonio.

Neither driver was injured and only minor damage to vehicles was reported.

The second accident was on Highway 36 at the underpass just a hundred yards south of the first one. Raymond J. Beene of Houston attempted to stop his 1971 Ford to avoid being involved in the first accident. He was struck from behind by a 1966 Dodge driven by John Adkins of Houston. Beene, Adkins' wife and a passenger in the Adkins car all received minor injuries.

In an accident Saturday afternoon at 4:30 four miles north of Cameron on Highway 77 Jackie Zajicek of Buckholts received minor injuries. Jackie was a passenger in a pickup driven by his father, Joe Frank Zajicek when the pickup collided with a pickup driven by John Wesley Brown of Cameron.

Jackie Zajicek was injured in a second accident Sunday afternoon when his car overturned as he attempted to make a turn from Highway 190 onto a county road. He received minor injuries but his car was heavily damaged. This accident occurred 1 1/2 miles south of Rogers just inside the Milam County line.

Two accidents were reported Monday morning. The first was at 2:30 a.m. when Billy Johnson and Dave Barnhill, both of Fort Hood were injured, though not seriously, when Johnson went to sleep at the wheel. His car swerved off Highway 36 about two miles west of Cameron, hitting a culvert.

Patrolman Wright investigated another accident about 7:45 a.m. Monday. The one vehicle accident occurred a half mile south of Rockdale on Farm Road 485. Frank Richard of Rt. 1, Rockdale, driver of a pickup, was admitted to a Rockdale hospital with undetermined injuries.

Veterans Day Breakfast Set By Post No. 9

A special Veterans Day breakfast will be served Monday morning by members of the American Legion Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 in Cameron.

The breakfast will be held at Simon-George Hall from 6 until 9 a.m.

Tickets will be $1 in advance and $1.25 at the door and the public is invited. The breakfast will include eggs, bacon or sausage, biscuits, coffee and milk.

Veterans Day 1971 by an Act of Congress, falls on a new day, October 25, but the purpose is still the same, according to Wayne Weiser, Post Commander.

"The purpose is to honor those who have fought and died in defense of this country and its freedom," Weiser said.

Bonfire, Queens Mark Yoe High Homecoming

Yoe High School's annual Homecoming activities will open with the traditional bonfire at 7:30 p.m. Thursday (tonight) and continue Friday with a pep rally Friday at 10:30 a.m. and the Yoe - Georgetown game Friday at 8 p.m.

A homecoming dance for Yoe Exes at the Cameron National Guard Armory will follow the game.

Reunions are planned for the classes of 1951 and 1961 with reserved seating at the game, special tables at the dance, and dinners scheduled Saturday night.

The Flame King and Queen will be crowned at the bonfire Thursday night on W. 20th St. west of the Southern Pacific tracks.

Candidates are Lynn Willy and Gary Trdy, freshmen; Pam Brashear and Paul Vaculin, sophomores; Cathy Collins and Richard Krall, juniors; and Emily Lewis and Dean Prokisch, seniors.

King and Queen candidates will ride to the bonfire on a float, accompanied by the school band, students and fans. Meeting time at the school is 7 p.m.

Crowning of the Homecoming Queen will highlight halftime activities Friday night. Queen candidates are Linda Coleman, freshman; Sandy Smith, sophomore; Cindy Kunz, junior; and Denise Botts, senior.

The class of 1951 will have a reserved section at the game, and will have a special table at the dance. On Saturday night a dinner will be held at Simon-George Hall in Cameron.

The class of 1961 will also have a section at the game and a table at the dance. Their dinner will be held Saturday at the Cameron Country Club.

Guatemalan Crafts Are Unique

Arts, crafts, bananas and coffee may be considered Guatemala's most important import around most of the globe, but in Central Texas Mrs. Rick Bandas holds the title.

Mrs. Bandas, a native of Guatemala now living in Temple, painted a fascinating picture of Guatemala for Cameron Rotarians last month and returned Monday to tell Noon Lions of the color and history waiting tourists in her native land.

"I love to tell people about the beauty of Guatemala and the ancient arts and crafts of the Guatemalan Indians," Mrs. Bandas said. She tells it so well that the Houston Counsul made her honorary Cultural Attache and fills her calendar with speaking engagements around the state.

Mrs. Bandas, who speaks fluent English, is a graduate of the American School in Guatemala, earned a degree in languages from the University of Nancy, France, and then entered law school at Catholic University in Guatemala.

But law studies took a back seat when she met Temple contractor Rick Bandas at her sister's graduation from Texas Christian University. For the past 5 years she has made her home in Temple combining a career as wife, mother, and Central Texas spokesman for Guatemala.

A film, produced by Esso Standard Oil Co., accompanies Mrs. Bandas on her speaking engagements, but her personal descriptions of the sights that entice tourists to Guatemala are as colorful as the color film.

Mrs. Bandas also showed samples of tapestry woven by Guatemalan Indians. "Each village has its own tapestry design," Mrs. Bandas explained.

The threads are dyed with natural elements and handwoven on ancient style looms. She said the tapestry is particularly popular now for the long skirts that dominate the fashion world.

Guatemala is best known in the art world for the pottery and sculpture of the Mayan civilization that dates to 2,000 B.C. Mrs. Bandas displayed a handsome Mayan clay bowl that was made about 200 B.C. and said the Mayan influence is still strong in Guatemalan art and crafts.

"It is a short 3 hour flight from Houston to Guatemala City," Mrs. Bandas said, "and American tourists will find no language or currency problems." She explained that the Guatemalan quetzal is at par with the American dollar. Also the non-linquist can relax because English is a required subject in Guatemalan schools.

City OKs Storm Drainage Project

Storm drainage for a 50-block area is assured following action by the city council at Tuesday's regular meeting.

Council approved having Joe Rady and Associates, of Fort Worth, make application for Economic Development Administration funds to affect the drainage system. EDA will fund on an 80-20 basis, with the city's share $20,000. Total estimated cost of the project is $100,000.

The area in the project includes Crockett St. area from Tenth Street, down to Eighth, turning on Eighth to Milam, and from there south to the City Park, where water will flow under the highway. The drainage will eliminate flooding during heavy rains of a large area, including Fannin St.

Mayor E. A. Perrin explained that the EDA, which seeks to increase employment, had been asked to administer funds for projects that could be developed by December 1.

Forty towns in eleven states had been contacted, and Cameron was screened to accept application for the project.

The Fort Worth engineering firm has been in charge of other Cameron projects, and is handling the application, which must be in by November 1, finalized by December 1, with work starting by February 1.

The council had heard the presentation and discussed the offer at two called meetings on October 11 and 15.

In other business, the council heard a progress report on the Regional Housing Authority from Narvie Caperton, Milam County RHA director, Caperton told the council that Milam County has been approved for 14 homes to be built replacing substandard housing.

Caperton noted that other county cities, including Rockdale, Thorndale, Buckholts, and Gause were also eligible for the program.

He said a survey of the county has been made but no sites have been announced as yet. He emphasized that the program seeks to encourage home ownership.

Allen Dodson, Cameron businessman, appeared before the council and asked if an ordinance similar to other cities' could be passed governing abandoned automobiles. He told of several places in the city where cars have been sitting on the side of the streets for years.

City Atty. Ed Magre was authorized to check with other cities about an ordinance, and he will report at the next meeting.

Council heard the first reading of an ordinance amending two sections of the zoning ordinance, and first reading of a mobile home ordinance.

First reading of an ordinance making streets near the high school one-way was also read.

Mayor Perrin told the council that Edwin Bigbee has accepted the post of city inspector for zoning and building code enforcement. The city's workable plan could not be approved until the inspector was hired. In the past, the city had an electrical inspector.

Minutes of a zoning adjustment board meeting were read. The meeting was held to pass on three requests for variances in the zoning law. All three requests were approved by the board and approved by the council.

Mayor Perrin read a letter from the state health department making recommendations for improvements in the city's water system.

Suggestions included replacing turbine vents on the underground storage tanks with a different type, screened. Flushing of dead ends of mains was suggested, along with standby chlorinating equipment and chemical feeders in case of emergency.

Dealing With Junk Cars....

City of Belton has passed a specific ordinance which requires removal of junk automobiles within that community's city limits.

It says "an accumulation of one or more junked vehicles can be removed by the city, within 10 days after the owner has been notified."

Every community, including Cameron, has a similar problem. If the automobile is a unique, or almost unique American contribution to the world, its litter on the landscape along highways and streets in this country has become commonplace.

Similar action in Cameron would add to the general cleanup and modernization occurring here.

Return To AAA...

We understand Cameron's Yoe High School has been raised to AAA in Interscholastic League competition, along with Georgetown, which will bring us into line with numerous communities of Cameron's size in Central Texas.

Cameron at one time was AAA in 1956-57, but fell back to AA when high school enrollment minimums were raised throughout the interscholastic league's system, B through AAAA.

Other area schools, long AA, have gone to AAA, including Rockdale, Belton, Copperas Cove, Brenham, following integration of high schools.

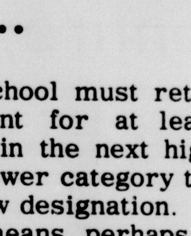
A school must retain enrollment for at least two years in the next higher or next lower category to attain the new designation.

It means perhaps a 10-team league in Central Texas AAA will include YHS next year. It means a better athletic and academic competition load, though this might seem a disadvantage to some.

It is, however, another sign that Cameron has shown growth in its school system. And it will create atmosphere for a competition among old AA rivals who have gone AAA ahead of us, and await our rejoining their ranks.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP



(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

SPOTLIGHT NOW ON HEXACHLOROPHENE

REP. W.F. RYAN (N.Y.) "...Hexachlorophene has been extensively used for the past 20 years as an antibacterial agent in soap, detergents, deodorants, anti-perspirants, mouthwashes, toothpastes, cosmetics, and infant preparations. Yet recent scientific evidence has linked hexachlorophene to severe neurological disturbances in children and laboratory animals.

"These studies have disclosed that infant burn patients who were washed daily with hexachlorophene detergent suffered brain seizures and that laboratory animals fed high doses developed paralysis, brain lesions, and poisoning.

"The implications of these findings are obvious. In light of the multitude of household products in which hexachlorophene is used, it is essential that the responsible Federal agencies take every possible action to insure that the consumer is protected from the possible hazards of this chemical.

"Thus, on September 12, I called upon the Food and Drug Administration to undertake a comprehensive program to safeguard the public from any danger from hexachlorophene, including restriction of its use and adequate labeling to alert the citizen to the hazards presented by this chemical.

"In its response to me on September 22, FDA acknowledged that it was 'cognizant of the concern for possible hazards' of hexachlorophene, and that it was undertaking an investigation into the matter.

"It is my firm belief that at the present state of our knowledge, the unnecessary use of concentrated hexachlorophene preparations should be curtailed. If the Food and Drug Administration is unwilling to undertake regulatory action at this time, then consumers must be alerted to the potential dangers hexachlorophene poses, thus allowing them to curtail use of this chemical voluntarily. . ."

(Excerpt from a Wall Street Journal article in the RECORD)

The Food and Drug Administration will continue to test hexachlorophene, particularly its effect on infants.

"I'll guarantee you we're going to continue to investigate hexachlorophene," said Dr. Dale Lindsay, FDA assistant commissioner for science, "However, any good germicide has to be toxic to be effective." Hexachlorophene is a particularly valuable antiseptic aid because its effect last longer than similar disinfectants, he explained, adding: "It would be an awful blow if it turned out to be AS HAZARDOUS AS SOME STUDIES SEEM TO INDICATE."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Why is it necessary for a congressman to alert the public to the possible danger of chemicals in daily use? Congressman Ryan's biographical record reflects no college degrees in chemistry. Nevertheless, it's his spotlight.—J.C.

Labor Leaders Seek 1972 Defeat Of President Nixon

By Bill Boykin

Organized labor leaders of Texas have set as political priorities for 1972 the defeat of President Nixon and support of former U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough for any office he seeks.

AFL-CIO State President Roy R. Evans announced the goals were adopted by his organization's executive board and the COPE administrative committee in a recent meeting here.

It is "quite possible," Evans said, the AFL-CIO will make no endorsements in next year's governor's race unless Yarborough is a candidate. He noted a two-thirds majority of delegate strength is necessary for endorsement in a COPE convention.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde are announced gubernatorial candidates.

Evans listed the lieutenant governor's race as the No. 3 priority of labor; the House Speaker's race No. 4 and congressional, state Senate and House contests No. 5.

He unveiled a voter registration goal of six million by the 1972 general election.

In a September poll of AFL-CIO convention delegates, Evans reported 201 felt Yarborough should run for the U.S. Senate, while 120 preferred that he run for governor and 26 for neither office.

He said 298 labor delegates would prefer Yarborough to 33 for Barnes in a governor's race between the two, while 294 would pick Yarborough to 47 for Briscoe.

The labor delegates liked Sen. Hubert Humphrey for president, giving him 313 straw votes to two for Alabama Gov. George Wallace and none for President Richard Nixon. A random poll of rank and file union members showed 87 for Humphrey to 51 for Wallace and 38 for Nixon. AFL-CIO convention delegates gave Yarborough 350 votes for senator to three for Sen. John Tower, and the former senator 316 to 13 over Democratic senatorial hopeful Harold (Barefoot) Sanders of Dallas in the poll.

Newspaper Boy Honored

State newspapers honored the 1971 "Carrier of the Year" at the state capital Friday. Joseph Gamble, 15, Bridge City, who delivers the Orange Leader, was named the first annual "Carrier of the Year" by the Texas Circulation Managers Association.

Gamble was taken on an official tour of the state capital, visited Gov. Preston Smith, Secretary of State Bob Bullock and other state officials.

Friday noon he was guest at a picnic given at the LBJ Park by Lady Bird Johnson for the outstanding highway beautification winners of the year.

The young newspaper boy was given an autographed book, "A White House Diary" by Mrs. Johnson.

He was a guest of the Texas Press Association for the day.

AG OPINIONS

Texas' nepotism laws are applicable to regional planning commissions and their employees, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

* Tax due on natural gas production is calculated on the basis of the total proceeds of the sale of all component parts, less allowable transportation and processing costs. Tax is then borne ratably by various interested parties. The formula is spelled out in the opinion.

* Texas Real Estate Commission must transmit half real estate broker and salesman renewal licenses fees to Texas A&M University for a new research center. Half must go to the State Treasury.

* County commissioners may purchase or lease and maintain two - way radio equipment for the sheriff and his deputies, but not for a Parks and Wildlife Department game management officer.

* Nueces County domestic relations court has concurrent jurisdiction with county courts at law over misdemeanor wife and child desertion cases, while the county court has no jurisdiction over them.

* New law did not change the duty of the Upshur County clerk to write warrants in payment of the salaries of county employees and and county bills authorized by law and approved by the commissioners court.

* A bill providing that county commissioners courts of each county shall fix the amount of compensation, office expenses, travel expenses and all other allowances for county and precinct officials and employees paid wholly from county funds is valid.

FEED LOT SHUT DOWN

Texas Water Quality Board ordered a cattle feeding operation near San Marcos shut down when it found a "constant threat of pollution" to underground water in the Edwards Aquifer.

The Edwards Aquifer is a major source of water for a large area of South Central Texas.

Attorneys for the feedlot, Hill Country Feeders, said the decision will be appealed to state district court.

COURTS SPEAK

The widow and mother of a Mexico air crash victim are entitled to collect $36,579 on his life insurance policy though he had requested it be discontinued five days before his death, the State Supreme Court held.

Court of Criminal Appeals held a 1967 U. S. Supreme Court decision guaranteeing defendants the right to subpoena accomplice witnesses to testify for them can be applied retroactively. The finding may provide a new way to freedom for prisoners convicted before 1967 and denied testimony of accomplices to the offense for which they were charged.

Criminal Appeals Court upheld a 1,000 - year prison sentence for a repeat-offender convicted in Dallas of robbery by assault, but the Court suggested such sentences are "impossible" and should not be assessed.

Sam Court credited a prisoner with time he did not serve behind bars when he was earlier released by mistake.

OYSTERING REOPENED

A large part of Lavaca Bay which was closed last year to oyster harvesting due to mercury contamination has been reopened.

However, the State Department of Health said blue crab should not be taken for human consumption until further notice.

Excessive mercury densities are still found in some blue crab collected from the bay, the Health Department reported.

Rift Emerges In Drug Commission

By Hugo Anson
Reuter Correspondent

GENEVA

Signs of a deep rift in attitudes towards the world drug problem have emerged during meetings of the United Nations Commission on Narcotic Drugs in Geneva.

The United States appears to be at loggerheads with other countries in the 24-nation commission, notably Britain, the Soviet Union and Sweden.

John Ingersoll, director of the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, has told the conference that the world drug problem has become one of "emergency proportions."

He has accused other commission members of not matching the $2 million U.S. contribution to the fund set up by the United Nations to combat drug abuse. So far all other countries combined have only come up with a total of $11,000.

The fund contains a three-point program to cut down the production of drugs, illegal traffic in them, and demand for them.

Highly - placed conference sources said many countries are distrustful of the motives which prompted the U. S. initiation of the fund and also of its planned programs.

The sources--from western, communist, and neutral delegations -- said they suspect that the United States has suddenly become aware of its own massive drug problem both at home and in Vietnam, and is now in the words of one delegate, "trying to tell everybody else they have got a huge drug problem too."

These reservations only appeared in mild form at the conference sessions. Ingersoll's frequent expressions of "personal regret that other countries have not seen fit to give more to the fund" are countered with criticisms outside the meetings that the United States is using the fund as gambit for the 1972 presidential election campaign.

Ingersoll, despite his accusations that other countries are not taking the problem so seriously as the United States, has admitted that the United States is faced with a "national emergency" and has asked other countries for their help in cutting down firstly on production of heroin, and secondly, in catching traffickers.

Turkey has announced it will halt production of opium beginning in 1972. Iran has announced that it is resuming opium production after a 15-year halt because its neighbors are still producing it.

Several delegates have said the problem should be tackled from the other end. Demand should be cut down and this involves having a healthy society and mounting effective campaigns to dissuade people against drugs.

They also say that it is equally hard to stop opium production as to catch drug traffickers. If growers found they could not sell their produce because there were so few buyers they would turn voluntarily to other forms of agriculture.

Soviet delegate Prof. E. Babaian said that the programs so far drawn up for the fund by the U.N. narcotics division should be made very much more clear and detailed before members can be expected to hand over any money.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

I hadn't thought much about it, by the time you get through thinking about water pollution, air pollution, and ground pollution you don't have much time left, but according to an article I read yesterday a new kind of pollution now confronts us. It's noise pollution.

In fact, the discoverers of this new one have become so sensitive to noise they've filed suit against a church for ringing its bells too often, but the main complaints are against jet airplanes, roaring trucks, bumper-to-bumper traffic, automobile horns, construction noises, etc.

The courts had better get ready for some complicated suits.

For example, take the automobile horn. If you've worked hard all day and go to bed around 8 p.m., a horn blast in front of your house right after you've dozed off is clear-cut noise pollution and the honker ought to be thrown in jail. But if you're a teenager across the street waiting for your date, a horn blast signaling his arrival sounds like music.

A big jet roaring overhead near your house is an unmitigated nuisance, I understand it's so bad you can't even hear your own lawn mower running, but if you're waiting at an airport to get rid of some in-laws after a three-weeks visit, it sounds wonderful.

Or take a mocking bird. Who would ever consider it guilty of noise pollution? It's something you write poetry about. But you let one open up outside your window at 2 a.m., get stuck on the same three notes, and continue whistling away for two hours, and you're ready to file suit against the universe.

I won't go into the noise rock bands make, but if I were a candidate for the Supreme Court I believe I'd give some second thoughts about taking the job if I had to rule on laws trying to define noise pollution.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

County Agent's Notes

Avoid Prussic Acid Poisoning

By Bill McCutchen

Nights are getting cooler and it's anyone's guess when the first frost will arrive in Milam County. With the first frost comes the danger of prussic acid poisoning to livestock grazing Johnson grass or any of the forage sorghums.

Frost as well as other conditions causing stress in the sorghum plants can cause prussic acid formation. Prussic acid is a deadly poison and can cause livestock losses in a short time.

Watch for the first frost and remove cattle from forage sorghum or Johnson grass pastures.

SPRAY FOR LICE

Dr. James M. Armstrong, Extension Veterinarian, in visiting some Milam County farms last week advised spraying cattle for lice now instead of waiting until they are noticeably inffested.

He said spraying is effective because of mild weather, shorter hair on cattle and a smaller lice population. The low population found now is the source of this winter's population. By winter the cattle have suffered greatly, and a heavy population of lice is more difficult to control than a light one.

The key point in effective lice control is to make thorough applications. If one animal or even a part of an animal is not treated, the lice could be a source of reinfestation for the herd.

Dr. Armstrong said that dipping is the most thorough way to treat cattle, but sprays are effective if applied with special attention to the brisket and flanks. The entire body should be wet to the skin. High water pressure and a coarse stream is best for penetrating the hair. Spray at close range and treat only a few cattle at a time.

SWINE SHORTCOURSE

A two day Swine Shortcourse was held in Milam County last week. Dr. W. B. Thomas presented the program at Thorndale Monday night.

Thomas in remarking about total confinement operations stated that sometimes in building facilities; we considered not what was necessary in producing swine, but convenience and whims of the operator.

He said that in his opinion swine producers should use natural facilities as much as possible to keep down operational overhead.

In the Tuesday night meeting at Cameron, James Denton, Area Economist - Management, predicted a more favorable swine picture. He said that indications were that prices would remain considerably below the 1969 high, but that 1972 prices will probably average over 20 cents.

SCREWWORMS

Screwworm outbreaks continue to cause alarm and some hard-hit counties are not to remote from Milam County. Hamilton, Burnet, Lampasas, and San Saba counties are the nearest reporting outbreaks.

This program has been most successful and those who suffered through the times before this program can well remember checking and doctoring livestock daily.

It is up to individual livestock producers to protect the investment in this program by watching livestock and submitting samples to the Mission Laboratory for identification.

DHIA MEETING

The Heart of Texas Herd Improvement Associa - tion will meet October 25th at the Smokehouse in Cameron.

A meal will be served at 7:30 p.m. and the meeting will be held at 8:15 p.m. All members are encouraged to attend.

FARM and CITY

AMERICAN FARMER - Dan Lehmann (left) National President of the Future Farmers of America presents the American Farmer Degree to Tim Titsworth of Cameron. The American Farmer Degree is the highest degree of membership in the FFA. It was presented to 470 FFA members during the 44th National FFA Convention held in Kansas City, Missouri, October 12-15.

Whooping Crane On Way South

The whooping crane, one of the worlds rarest birds, is now on his 2,000 mile trip to his wintering grounds on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast, Department of the Interior officials warned.

Fifty seven of the tall white cranes went northward last spring, representing the entire world's population of the species. If they follow their normal timetable, whooping cranes will begin arriving on the Texas Gulf Coast Wildlife Sanctuary this week, Refuge officials estimate.

From a low of 14 birds in 1915, the whooper has staged a gallant fight for survival and his numbers have slowly increased under complete legal protection by both the United States and Canada to the modern day high of 57 reached this last winter.

Standing five feet tall, the whooping crane is almost entirely white, sporting black wing tips and a bright red face. The juvenile birds display an orange or buff coloration on the head, neck and chest. The whooper gets his name from the distinctive trumpet like sound made by the adult birds.

The normal flight path used by the whooping cranes brings them across Saskatchewan, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas enroute to their wintering areas.

The Department of the Interior asks that all hunters be very cautious near any large white birds and urges anyone sighting a whooping crane to report the sighting immediately to state or federal wildlife authorities.

TURTLE EGGS

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, Reuter - Some 47,000 turtle eggs have been planted in the Malaysian State of Trengganu's hatchery this season. The planting was part of a turtle preservation drive begun in 1961.

Fall Good Time To Control Weeds

Perennial weeds such as ragweeds, groundsels, nightshades, ironweeds, coneflower and broomweed can be controlled by applying herbicides in the fall when soil moisture is adequate and weeds are storing food in their root systems.

Range and forage conditions can be improved greatly by reducing competition from weeds, says Garlyn Hoffman, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Fall is a good time to use chemical weed control methods after susceptible crops are harvested and there is little danger of crop damage from chemical drift.

Demonstration tests from the Panhandle to South Texas have shown that 2,4-D, 2,4, 5-T, silvex, dicamba, picloram and mixtures of these have produced satisfactory perennial weed control when applied during the fall. However, about twice as much herbicide per acre is required in the fall as in the spring, points out the specialist.

Use two pounds of 2,4-D low volatile ester per acre mixed in water. Two-and-a-half to four gallons of solution are required per acre by aerial application and 5 to 20 gallons per acre with ground spray.

The total application cost by air or ground is about $3.50 per acre. Silvex and 2,4,5-T produce equally good results but the cost was more per acre.

Dicamba should be used at the rate of one-half pound per acre mixed in water and applied by air or ground equipment. Total cost per acre for applying dicamba is about $5.25. Dicamba is an amine salt herbicide which will not vaporize after application.

These herbicides are not toxic to man, animals or wildlife, explains Hoffman. However, they should be used in accordance with instructions on the approve lable. Use only the amount of material needed to do a good job.

HardinAnnounces REAP Program

October 8, 1971, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin announced the 1972 Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) at a funding level of $140 million. Subsequent legislation could change the level of the final 1972 program allocations.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program helps farmers to carry out needed conservation and environmental protection measures on their farms with costs shared by the Federal Government. Major emphasis is placed on long-range preservation of the environment, and on practices which will return more benefits to the public at less public cost.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service through its farmer - elected committee system. The Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service provide technical and educational assistance.

Consistent with the report of the House Committee on Appropriations, the 1972 program will make provisions for continuation of 1970 program practices and procedures as such need may be determined by county committees.

Emphasis will continue in 1972 on cost-sharing measures that result in enduring conservation benefits, and on redirecting the program toward environmental improvement. High priority will be given, as it is in the 1971 program, to those practices that offer:

-- significant pollution abatement, particularly sediment

-- substantial improve - ment in the quality of the environment

Secretary Hardin cited the following as examples of high priority practices in some area: Establishing permanent stands of grass or legume cover to hold soil in place and allow maximum insoak of rainfall without runoff; animal waste management practices that prevent or correct water, air or land pollution problems in and around farm livestock and poultry barns; and building ponds, diversion terrace detentions or other structures to control sediment or chemical runoff. He noted that sediment is still the number one pollutant of water in streams and lakes from the standpoint of volume.

The 1972 REAP will give a lower priority to temporary or short-term practices.

Dairyman's Short Course

The annual Dairyman's Short Course is set for October 28 and 29 at Texas A&M University, announces A.M. Meekma, Extension, dairy specialist. Registration will begin at 8:15 a.m. on Oct. 28 in the Memorial Student Center. Dairymen, industry representatives and others with an interest in dairying are invited to attend the statewide event.

New Legislation To Update Federal Farm Credit System

WASHINGTON

New legislation to reorganize the Federal Farm Credit system was introduced by Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., of the House Committee on Agriculture, with bi - partisan sponsorship.

Designed to update the existing Farm Credit statutes and provide borrowers with access to additional services related to their farming and ranching activities, the measure is a compromise of divergent proposals advocated by individual Federal Land Banks, by the Farm Credit Administration and by various Members of Congress and other interested parties.

Joining in introduction of the new bill were Rep. John McMillan, D-S.C., Committee Vice Chairman, and the two ranking Republican members of the Committee, Page Belcher of Oklahoma and Charles Teague of California.

The new bill, which is a revision of a measure introduced September 30th by Chairman Poage and Congressman Teague, includes the following principal provisions:

1. The Land Banks and Production Credit Associations are given authority to make non-farm rural housing loans, but such loans are limited to 15 percent of the total outstanding loans of these organizations. They already make housing loans to farmers and ranchers.

2. The present limitation on loans to 65 percent of the appraised value of the farms or ranches is raised to 85 percent.

3. First lien security requirement on Land Bank loans contained in present law is retained.

4. Issuance of a "joint security," making each of the three branches of the System (Land Banks, Intermediate Credit Banks, and Banks for Cooperatives) obligated for the liabilities of the other, is authorized. However, the joint security would have to be approved by the Boards of Directors of all Farm Credit Banks before being approved for issuance by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

5. The "farmer voting media" percentage requirement of 90 percent for cooperatives to be eligible to borrow from the Banks for Cooperatives, as contained in existing law, is reduced to 80 percent.

UP IN SMOKE

Pontivy, France, Reuter - Every one of 8,000 turkeys a local farmer was fattening up to meet the big Christmas demand was roasted three months ahead of time when a fire swept through his barn.

Poage Says Administration Holding Back REAP

Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage of the House Committee on Agriculture accused the Administration Oct. 8 of issuing a misleading statement in connection with the release of funds for the Rural Environmental Assistance Program.

The Congressman's statement was prompted by a Department of Agriculture release earlier in the day announcing that the program, REAP, would be funded with a $140 million allocation in the current fiscal year. Congress appropriated $195.5 million for the program in the year which began last July 1.

After announcing the $140 million allocation, the Department's release observed that new legislation could change the level of spending for the current program.

Conservation and environmental protection measures on farms are carried out under REAP, with costs shared by the federal government.

Chairman Poage's statement follows: "I have just been advised that the Administration has announced that the 1972 funding level of the REAP (this is the old ACP Program) will be $140 million.

"I want to make it perfectly clear that Congress appropriated $195.5 million for this program.

"In its announcement, the Department of Agriculture says 'Subsequent legislation could change the level of the final 1972 program allocations'. I cannot understand either the pertinency or the validity of any such obviously misleading statement. I can only guess that the Administration is referring to the floundering proposal for 'revenue sharing'. I want to emphasize the fact that revenue sharing is not the law and I don't believe that the Administration is being fair with the public by trying to hide the fact that $55.5 million, which Congress appropriated for this program, is simply being impounded or frozen.

"If the Administration does not want to spend this $55.5 million, I think it should be honest and say so. I resent the fact that the Administration is trying to charge the Congress with this low funding level. The Congress appropriated the money. It is available right now. The Administration could spend it if they wanted to. It is misleading to talk about making additional payments dependent upon new legislation. We have the legislation.

"I also think it is regrettable that the Administration has waited to release badly needed funds until so late in the fiscal year. I have heretofore urged both the Department of Agriculture and the Office of Management and Budget to release all of these funds."

New Type Pork Now Available

COLLEGE STATION

A new type of pork with more lean and less fat has been developed the past few years through the cooperative efforts of hog breeders, meat packers and retail stores.

This new pork is produced from heavier muscled pigs with less fat and more care taken in trimming by the packer and the retail butcher, says Woodrow W. Bailey, livestock and meat specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Consumers will find pork chops, fresh ham steaks and fresh pork roast with no more fat than the other red meats, Bailey adds. Canned hams and other cured and processed pork products are also checked more closely for fat content before processing.

Bailey says that several recent cooking experiments have made completely new pork cooking methods available. A juicier, more tender and more plentiful pork roast can be obtained from the new type pork by maintaining the internal temperature of the roast at 170 degrees F. while cooking at 300 to 325 degrees F.

In other tests, it was found that pork chops cut one inch thick can be broiled over hot coals or in a broiling oven to a delicious brown and they will remain tender and juicy.

Bailey reminds consumers that pork is highly digestible and is the richest source of thiamine, which is needed for growth and for the proper functioning of the heart and nerves.

Huntsman - Beinhauer United In Church Rites

Miss Beverly Jo Beinhauer became the bride of Gary Huntsman in a candlelight ceremony in the First United Methodist Church of Rosebud, Saturday, October 16, at 7 p.m. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beinhauer of Rosebud and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Huntsman, Sr., of Cameron.

Reverend Anthony Thibodeaux, pastor of the First Christian Church of Sour Lake, Texas, performed the double ring ceremony in front of the altar decorated with baskets of greenery flanked by two candelabra holding lighted tapers. The altar held an arrangement of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums.

Miss Gail Thibodeaux of Sour Lake played nuptial music. Miss Margaret Hargrove of Gatesville sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white organza over peau de soie. It was empire style with a satin ribbon sash forming a bow and streamers in the back. Lace appliques covered the bodice and formed a close square neckline beaded with seed pearls. The back was closed with small covered buttons. The cathedral train of peau de soie was fastened to the waist and was covered with lace medallion appliques, as was also the skirt. The three - quarter length sleeves ended in lace flounces. Her elbow length veil of English illusion was attached to a lace orchid embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, English ivy and white ribbon streamers, with a white orchid in the center.

Her only jewelry was a pearl drop heart necklace, gift of the groom.

Miss Pamela Hopper of Houston was maid of honor. She wore a navy blue crepe floor - length gown, fashioned with an empire waist and short puff sleeves. Iridescent sequin braid accentuated the waist and stand-up collar. Her headdress was a bow made of the same material as the dress. She carried a nosegay of peppermint carnations and white ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sherrie Malone of Richardson, cousin of the bride, and Becky Beinhauer, sister of the bride. Their ensembles were identical to that of the maid of honor except that their dresses and headpieces were red.

Little Miss Amber Kenworthy of Rosebud, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown and headdress were identical to that of the maid of honor. She carried a white basket with rose petals, decorated with red and white ribbons.

Richard Burnett of Cameron was best man. Groomsmen were Eddie Huntsman, Jr. brother of the groom, and John Mayer, both of Cameron. Ring bearer was Master Todd McIntosh of La Marque, cousin of the bride. Ushers and candlelighters were Henry Thibodeaux of Sour Lake and Bill Odam of San Antonio, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a light blue belted, A-line knit dress, fashioned with a front wrap panel skirt. The neck, sleeves, and skirt panel were trimmed with gold braid. With it, she wore gold accessories. The groom's mother chose a beige knit A-line dress and brown accessories. Both wore white flat orchid corsages.

The reception was held at the D Brown Memorial Library immediately after the ceremony. Miss Merri Huntsman of Cameron, sister of the groom, registered the guests in the bride's book. Others in the house party were Mrs. Frank Malone and Miss Patty Malone of Richardson, aunt and cousin of the bride; Miss Marilyn Marek of Garland and Miss Joanie Kenworthy of Rosebud, cousins of the bride; Mrs. W. G. McIntosh of La Marque, aunt of the bride; and Miss Linda Thrasher of Rosebud.

The bride's table had a white linen cloth with net overlay. The skirt was decorated with English ivy, flowers, and, at the corners, bows with streamers. It was centered with a floral arrangement of carnations, gladiolas, and chrysanthemums in red and white colors. The three - tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with red sugar roses. Cherry punch was served from a silver bowl. Silver table appointments were used. The groom's table was covered with a fringed beige cloth; and from it were served coffee and German chocolate cake.

Music for the reception was furnished by Miss Gail Thibodeaux.

The bride chose for her going - away a three-piece knit suit of navy and white design. The crepe blouse and her accessories were navy. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Huntsman is a 1970 honor graduate of Rosebud High School and has attended Temple Junior College She is employed at the Halbert - Vardiman Hospital.

Mr. Huntsman is a 1969 graduate of Yoe High School in Cameron, and is employed by Belfalls Electric Co-Op of Rosebud.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at their home in Cameron, Friday night, October 15.

I get plenty of teasing from the fellows at the plant about my cove. They call it "Crockett's Cure-all for Tired Executives." And they're right.

Drifting alone on the still water, tiny under the full sky, things fall into perspective. A bird calls, upriver a fish arches, a passing breeze brings blossom scent. Somehow, no matter how thorny my problem, the harmony of God's nature takes the kinks out of me.

Things weren't always this way. A few years back a tree was just a tree to me — a lake, a lake. Now, wherever I look, I see God's goodness.

It all started one evening when, worried and depressed, I wandered into a church. I can't remember now what was sung or read, but I will never forget the sense of God's presence. Since then, God's Church and teachings have been my strength.

Your church offers inspiration and a fresh viewpoint. Take advantage of it.

Weight Gain Study For Pregnant Women

COLLEGE STATION

For decades, pregnant women in America have traditionally followed doctor's orders to keep down their weight gain.

But now there is increasing nutritional and medical evidence that such weight limitations may not only be unhealthy for the baby, but may even contribute to America's relatively high rate of infant deaths, reports Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

America now ranks 15th in world infant mortality rates, she continues. Nations such as Finland, Hungary and Holland have better records.

According to the specialist, a major nutritional study of Guatemalan mothers by the Institute of Nutrition for Central America and Panama has provided the first solid evidence a mother's diet during pregnancy is directly related to her baby's eventual birth weight.

During the study, mothers were given just one cup of high protein supplement a day throughout pregnancy. This procedure cut the infant mortality record almost in half. Babies also weighed nearly a pound more at birth than babies from a similar control group.

The test showed, for the first time, the birthweight of babies can be influenced markedly by a high protein diet, Miss Springer notes. And it also suggests infant mortality rates, both in America and in developing countries, might be cut by improved maternal nutrition.

SPORTS

Pre-Game Ceremonies To Cite A&M's Homer

Prior to the A&M-Baylor game this coming Saturday, Wilbur Evans of the SWC will present Mrs. Homer Norton with the citation of the election of the late Texas A&M Coach Homer Norton to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. . . He follows two other Aggie coaches -- D. X. Bible and Matty Bell -- and three A&M players -- Aggie coaches -- players -- Joe Routt, John Kimbrough and Joel Hunt -- into the national hall. . . .

TCU statisticians credited A&M safety David Hoot with 22 tackles, one fumble recovery and one blocked pass in the A&M-TCU contest. . . .QB Joe Mac King made his first start for the Ags and also was one of the game captains. . . .

The A&M - TCU contest was a game of two contrasting halves. In the first half, TCU gained a 14-0 lead and led in first downs, 19-1. In the second half A&M won on the scoreboard, 3-0 and led in first downs, 14-3.

The Aggies ran two tight ends, bringing on Mitch Robertson as the other end opposite Homer May. And Robertson led A&M pass receivers with two catches for 29 yards. . . . .Also, little Hugh McElroy started at tailback and was the top rusher with 69 yards on 15 carries. . . .The aggies had 224 yards total offense, their highest since the opener against Wichita State. . .

Injuries continue to plague the Texas Aggies. Three more went to the sidelines in the TCU contest, all with hurt knees. They were defensive end Kent Finley, offensive guard Todd Christopher and fullback Doug Robbins. . . .

Saturday's 1:30 p.m. contest with Baylor will be Texas A&M's first home conference game of the 1971 campaign. . . . .

Oddly, the team that the Aggies defeated -- Wichita State -- is the only one that has lost since playing A&M. LSU, Nebraska, Cincinnati and Texas Tech have not lost since playing A&M . . . .

Prior to the A&M-SMU game at Kyle Field on Nov. 6 four former Aggie athletic greats will be inducted into Texas A&M's athletic hall of fame. They are Lowell (Tiny) Keen, '22, one of A&M's most versatile athletes who now lives in Dallas; Roy (Beau) Bell, '31, A&M's first All-America as a centerfielder; Herbert (Herbie) Smith, 140, co-captain of the 1939 national grid champs and Marion (Dookie) Pugh, '41, QB in 1939 and 1940 as the Aggies won 19 straight. The late Smith's home was San Angelo while Bell and Pugh both live in College Station. . . .

UT's Mauldin In Despite Injuries

AUSTIN

Stan Mauldin is like a fishing cork--you get him down and he just keeps popping back up.

Mauldin, the senior Texas Longhorn defensive co-captain, has been in and out of action so much during the Longhorns' first four games that you really don't know what to expect next.

First, he went out in preseason drills with a knee injury that some thought would ruin his senior year. He missed the season opener with UCLA, then started the Texas Tech game. Midway through a great performance, he reinjured his knee.

Then, Mauldin disappeared in a sea of publicity about the injuries to his roommate, quarterback Eddie Phillips, and he wasn't heard from again until he went in last Saturday in an effort to halt the onsalught of the Oklahoma Sooners in the second half.

"We just shook his hand and wished him luck and threw him out there," said defensive line chief R. M. Patterson.

Mauldin went in at strong linebacker against the Sooners. He started at defensive end against Texas Tech. Coaches consider him versatile and knowledgeable enough to play almost any of eight defensive positions.

When Mauldin went down against Texas Tech, a dejected coach Darrell Royal figured Stan's career was over. Stan, however, did concentrated rehabilitation work, which included daily work in the UT swimming pool.

The week before the Oklahoma game, Mauldin did not participate in any drills. On Thursday, after jogging all week during practice, he stood with the coaches and watched in sort of a recognition drill.

"They had to chain my locker all week to keep me from suiting up," Mauldin joked.

With Mauldin's concentrated play and adjustments by the defense, Texas held Oklahoma to under 100 yards rushing in the second half, after the Sooners had run up 344 yards in the first half.

The 5 - 11, 200 - pounder from Azle comes from a tradition - rich family of Texas footballers. His father, the late Stan Mauldin, is still spoken of respectfully as one of the best linemen ever to play for Texas. Brother Dan was a standout player and a Phi Beta Kappa student at Texas in the early 1960s.

The younger Stan was a "walk - on," a volunteer who came to Texas without a scholarship, but who, with a redshirt season, will wind up starting three years for the Longhorns -- as long as the cork stays afloat.

A&M's Place Kicker 'Man About Team'

COLLEGE STATION

Mike Bellar, senior place kicker from Sudan, Texas, is kicking less and enjoying it more since he found out what the problem was.

"In my sophomore year, I used to kick between two and three hundred times a day to get ready for a game," Bellar stated. "But I later found out that it ruined my concentration and hindered my kicking more than help it. Now I only kick during specialty periods and in the game."

A person would then wonder what a place kicker does during the week when the rest of the team is working on offense and defense.

"Coach Stallings has put me in the defensive secondary, made me captain of the scout and specialty teams," he said. "And this keeps my mind OFF kicking during the week. Now I don't have time to kick even if I wanted to."

Bellar does not want to be just the kicker at Texas A&M, he wants to be helpful to the team in as many ways as he can.

"I want to be part of the team all week," he said. "Not just on game days. If I get to work with the whole team, like on offense or defense, I feel like I'm helping the entire program.

Bellar does other strange things for a kicker, he makes tackles. In fact he achieved an "Aggie Star" for making four against Wichita.

"On the kickoff, I have a pattern to follow," he explained. "The most important thing I have to do is kick the ball well. Then I have to dodge the man who is sent to knock me down. Then I proceed to flow into my zone; which luckily has been where the ball carrier has been."

Many people are under the impression that being on the specialty team is degrading, Bellar's Brigade thinks it's an honor.

"Our specialty team is totally different from either the offensive or defensive team," Bellar said. "I really think that is the best way for it to be. With an autonomous specialty team, we get both pride in the team by being part of it and it may be the only chance we'll ever get to play."

COPYRIGHT 1971 BY THE CARR RATINGS SERVICE

NOTE:

WE HAVE ALWAYS BEATEN ALL OF OUR COMPETITORS, IN EACH SPORT, EVER SINCE THE CARR RATINGS WERE FIRST RELEASED, HOWEVER: IT NOW APPEARS THAT WE ARE EVEN ABLE TO BEAT THE "FAR OUT" PERCENTAGES THAT THEY CLAIM TO HAVE HIT. LAST WEEK ONE OF OUR COMPETITORS CLAIMED A PERCENTAGE OF 75.2%. NOW EVEN IF THIS WAS CORRECT, WE HAD HIM BY A WIDE MARGIN, BUT IN REALITY; WE HAVE HIS MATERIAL ON FILE AND ACTUALLY HE HAD A RECORD OF 507 WINS, 217 LOSSES, AND 13 TIES, FOR A PERCENTAGE OF 70.0 %.

* *

SPECIAL:

WE HOPE THAT YOU NOTICED OUR PRO FOOTBALL SELECTIONS FOR SUNDAY OCTOBER 17, 1971: WE HIT 11 GAMES AND MISSED ON ONLY 1 FOR A PERCENTAGE OF 91.7 %. ALMOST ALL OF OUR COMPETITORS WERE 8-4-0, 7-5-0, OR WORSE.

Lamb Chop Platter Brings Spring to Table

Just as spring in the garden means daffodils and tulips, the seasonal sweetheart of the grocery produce department is asparagus. While in the meat market there's special emphasis on lamb throughout this sprightly season.

Many families choose a roast leg of lamb for the Easter table. But there's no need to wait until feast day to enjoy this fine meat.

Bring spring to the table to give dinner a lift any day with an appetizing platter combining broiled lamb chops and tomato halves with asparagus, advises Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Spring Lamb Chop Platter

6 lamb sirloin chops, cut ¾ inch thick
Salt
3 tomatoes, halved
2 teaspoons minced parsley
1 bunch asparagus

Arrange chops on rack in broiler pan and insert pan so top of meat is 2 to 3 inches from heat. Broil 6 minutes. Season and turn. Sprinkle tomato halves with minced parsley and arrange around chops. Continue broiling 6 to 8 minutes or until meat is done and tomatoes heated through. While chops are broiling, cook asparagus in boiling salted water until just tender, 10 to 18 minutes. Drain asparagus and arrange the stalks, in 6 bundles.
